A Friend Called Anne By Jacqueline van Maarsen, Carol Ann Lee

When Jacqueline met Anne on her way home from school in the 1940s, the two girls formed an instant friendship. But with every day came an increasing sense of fear, especially as the Nazis took over Amsterdam. Despite the impending war, the friendship between Anne Frank and Jacqueline van Maarsen would never be broken, even when Anne was forced into hiding. In this beautiful memoir, Jacqueline remembers Anne, their friendship, and the chilling Holocaust experience of barely escaping deportation by the Nazis, helplessly watching friends and family disappear, and starting her life again after the war. Through Jacqueline's memories and black-and-white photos, Anne Frank will come to life and continue to be remembered.

"[A] fascinating account of Anne, her family, and her friends before she went into hiding . . . This absorbing book vividly portrays life in occupied Amsterdam and throws interesting sidelights on Anne Frank's story."—Booklist

Gr. 5-8. Lee, who has previously written adult biographies of Anne Frank and her father, as well as a version of the former for children, now offers an edition of van Maarsen's book My Friend Anne Frank (1989) rewritten for a younger audience. Van Maarsen, who met Anne Frank in 1941 at the Jewish Lyceum, their school in Amsterdam, became her closest friend. She contributes a short preface to this book, which is followed by an introduction in which Lee describes meeting her in Amsterdam. Still living, van Maarsen survived the war because her mother was successful in having her children taken off the Nazi's Jewish register. Young readers intrigued by Anne Frank will find this a fascinating account of Anne, her family, and her friends before she went into hiding, as well as van Maarsen's life in Holland during and after the German occupation. Reproductions of photos and documents illustrate the book. A time line of events is appended. This absorbing book vividly portrays life in occupied Amsterdam and throws interesting sidelights on Anne Frank's story. Carolyn Phelan
